Headline in the Vancouver Province says: "Don't Duck Blame!"—Dunn; no one can think of it. She seems the most appropriate one to divorce him.

It constitutes a jewel, that's a valuable check on the corner of Jasper and 10st.—It tells the same time for months.

A lady journalist warns engaged couples to be sure they know each other before marrying—“that's the way to make sure of your mate.”

General Wood's Son Divorced His Wife, a brother says—An' come to think of it, she seems the most appropriate one to divorce him.

An old-timer is a guy who can remember when housemaids were the only girls who were supposed to have knees.

Another ploughman of Bob Muir, whose friends say he is in grave danger of being taken into custody for aiding an unimportant man. The picture shows him in his uniform years ago and Bob's costume is different now, glasses and all.

The fact that a double of the late Randolph Valentine has been found in the city gives that mystery repeats itself.

Lord Chelmsleyone is as saying he "wouldn't exchange the last two hours of his life for a king's ransom"—That's right, but you can't call him a king, rampon for a laborer's life?

Headline in the Montreal Star: "Woman Died From Natural Causes"—Well, what about it?

Another scene from Kwaiwan's picture seen to be disbelief. Andy White tells us it represents the Emperor's men, but our opinion is Andy doesn't know a thing about it.

There's one thing that ought to recommend some of the patent breakfast foods to bum cooks: Whatever they do to 'em is an improvement.

According to a Toronto paper, "There are 400 varieties of fleas, but less than a dozen are troublemakers." Well, the cockroach world loses more than a dozen just one's trouble down to zero.

A NUMEROUS ENCYCLOPEDIA—The Sparrow—The Canadian Press

Brave little bird! Whose song and twists Daily are heard. As well as fits. He doesn't fear the cold, the ice, the snow. But, then, the glass show fifty-nine below. Goes hunting, gains down our boy's skirts! His quest for nurturing starts. No sooner has he, to bring Christmas time. Nor can we know what he does, or where he goes. But I've a fancy he would think it right if Santa Claus would just bring him a home.

A. U. G. Bury and Ald. East Expose Stewart Petrel's Statements

Branding as "unethical" the memories of old time mayoralty campaigns in the city, Wednesday night's meeting of Ald. Alex. Taylor was dominated by a speech for aidermen. The picture shows him years ago and Bob's costume is different now, glasses and all.

The fact that a double of the late Randolph Valentine has been found in the city gives that mystery repeats itself.

ADVANCE POLLS IN CIVIC VOTE OPEN FRIDAY

Returning Officer Explains How To Avoid Spoiling Ballot

With the candidates tumbling into the straight in the municipal handicap, and with the advance polls opening on Friday at 1 o'clock in the council chamber at the Civic building, City Clerk Charles E. K. Clark, returning officer, made by the speaker, and Joe Clarke, the last of the mayoralty candidates to speak.

Here's what you have to do if you want to have your ballot marked "good."

Look at the figure 1 in the spaces opposite the name of your choice, then you must go down the ballot and mark the other numbers in the order of choice to the limit of the ballot.

Six Mayoralty Choices

There are six choices on the ballot, so you must vote for aldermen and sit in the ballot for mayor.

Therefore, you can mark your ballot for mayor from 1 to 6 in the order of choice.

LAW ANGELLES, Calif.—Dec. 9.—Imperial Valley was cut off from outside communication for a third consecutive day yesterday. Rain, storms and earthquake shocks last night. Telephone wires were cut near the mouth of the Colorado River, and winds blew down numerous poles at Cucamonga.

Associated Press

Holding the story of the four accused that they had been "picked up" at a local hotel and taken to jail, the police said yesterday. Last night, however, the real culprit was released.

The questions led to another wordy argument between Ald. East and the latter declaring that Clarke was trifling with the truth, and that the majority candidate had lied in his statement on page eleven.

The earthquake was felt in California, and through the Imperial Valley. Six shocks were felt at Caliente, and numerous cracks and chinkes cracking walls and chimneys, breaking windows but doing no property damage.

Although reports of damage done by the temblor were few, it was indicated that the property losses will be comparatively small.

Wolf Hunters Have Good Year in Ontario Wilds

Associated Press

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—During the month of November, the Ontario government will issue 100,000 permits to hunters and woodsmen in the province, and it is expected that the number will be increased to 120,000 next year.

The earthquakes were felt at Caliente, and through the Imperial Valley. Six shocks were felt at Caliente, and numerous cracks and chinkes cracking walls and chimneys, breaking windows but doing no property damage.

Although reports of damage done by the temblor were few, it was indicated that the property losses will be comparatively small.

PASTOR ARRESTED, CHARGED WITH ILLEGAL ELOPEMENT

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9.—Rev. George J. Jones, former pastor of the First Methodist church in Glendale, was arrested by department of justice agents yesterday on a charge of mail tampering.

The charges were filed yesterday morning.

He was held without bail.

He doesn't fear the cold, the ice, the snow. But, then, the glass show fifty-nine below. Goes hunting, gains down our boy's skirts! His quest for nurturing starts. ## The Weather-Cock.

The Journal has finally decided that Mr. Bury's chances of election are so good that it would be a mistake not to support him. That shows which way the wind is blowing.

Over-Crowding in Prospect.

A North Carolina man who was caught driving an automobile while drunk was given the choice of going to jail for six months or attending church regularly for the next two years. He chose the latter. Ministers elsewhere who find it hard to fill the pews might get in touch with their local magistrates. If the reports are correct they would have to enlarge most of the churches south of the line if the courts started handing out similar penalties.

Oil at Ribstone.

Officials of the Imperial Oil Company at Calgary deny the report that a large flow has been struck in the Ribstone well. They state explicitly that a mixture of oil and water was encountered, and it is hoped that when the water is got rid of the oil flow will increase. Otherwise drilling will be resumed.

This official version of the facts is one to correct misconceptions, but not to discredit the field. The fact that oil has been found, and that drilling will probably be continued if the quantity is not satisfactory, is assurance that those who are spending their money in the enterprise have not lost faith in it.

A Clear-Cut Stand.

Mr. Bury has found it necessary to take notice, in emphatic terms, of the "whispering campaign" which has been initiated against him by a section of his opponents. His language leaves no room for doubt in the minds of sensible people as to where he stands on the various matters which have been injected into the campaign.

Mr. Bury is not a parlor critic. His terse, fighting, decided language, by any means, cuts whatever and his open declaration that he is out for cheaper gas rates and any other measures that are for the benefit of the ratepayers of Edmonton as a whole leave nothing to be desired. The language is clear-cut. Mr. Bury has been as explicit as any man can be.

The single street subway will now $1,000,000 Canadian National will for the city an energetic policy of building up industries in Edmonton and making this a city of payrolls, and at the same time adding to the population of the city so that the tax burden may bear less harshly on the shoulders of the tax-payer, are among the things which stand out.

Mr. Bury's record in public and private life in Edmonton is such that it is a guarantee that if he is elected on December 13 the city will have a sane, progressive administration, and that at the head of civic affairs Edmonton will have a man able and willing to take every advantage of that era of prosperity which all believe is in store for the city.

We Do It Better Here.

The notion that the western—and newer—provinces should take their precedents from the eastern—and older—ones is crudely disturbed by the way Ontario has gone about the settlement of the liquor question. For the reason that that method seems to leave the liquor question in a decidedly unsettled condition, and in some respects a condition very capable of settlement than it was before.

In Alberta, and in each of the other western provinces, the question of liquor control was dealt with as one which had better be kept clear of politics. In Ontario it was thrown into politics, with the intention and the effect of making it a subject of party controversy.

While the western provinces were counted up in one of the eastern provinces it was accepted that the liquor question was settled, and there was no party whose interests, record, or pledges bound it to keep the question alive. When the election returns were compiled in Ontario last week it was found that one party had won on one liquor policy and that all other parties and groups had lost on the liquor policies.

Does that mark the end of the controversy in Ontario? He is an optimist who thinks so. The probability is that the fight will be resumed when the Legislature meets, and that it will go on, in the Legislature and outside it, indefinitely.

Was a tariff policy ever removed from political controversy by the result of a general election? Or a railway policy? Parties and public opinion in Ontario have been split by the liquor question as definitely as by a shift change or railway expansion; and the liquor question is one which is in a class of its own, unlikeliest to prolong a cleavage of the kind. The outlook is that liquor is in politics in Ontario to stay, and that public attention will be diverted from other patterns of public moment by a continuance of the acrimonious debate.

This seems to be the question which the people of the western provinces have handled with a great deal more tact than the people of Ontario. Here that question now is seldom thought of. There they are likely to think of little else of political moment for some time to come.

Choice

By EDGAR A. GUEST

It all depends on the choice we make. And which of the roads we decide to take. Though luck may follow or stay behind. But there's no guarantee that the road to success will be smooth. Chance may cost him a hard-fought game. But a bar has only himself to blame.

Each of us says what his fame shall be. Photoshop may bring his luck for the less he needs. But honor is something which must be earned.

Chance may favor some plain-jane person. But it isn't by luck that a man stays clean.

The same man wins and the friends he makes depend upon which of the roads he takes.

And what we shall be in the end is determined by the road we travel.

The world shall judge us as false or true.

But we shall be the ones to judge ourselves.

It is in ourselves we must all decide.

And what we shall be in the end is determined by the road we travel.

In countless ways are our natures tried.

And what we shall be in the end is determined by the road we travel.

The world shall judge us as false or true.

But we shall be the ones to judge ourselves.

Eskimos Are Given Drubbing In Regina Game Score 9-1

CAPITALS SCORE HOLLOW VICTORY

Hec Fowler Stars As Locals Are Snowed Under

No Alibi Needed

You are a hero when you win but you are a bum when you lose. Last night the Eskimos won their first game of the season. Incidentally, that is not something to be proud of.

One of those supports of sport, the kind that go to games when there is no one else, is over, give us a call over the telephone.

What's the score? The Eskimos won their game," he said.

"It was a good game," he said.

"We will print all of their pictures tomorrow," he said.

We asked who was talkin'.

Then we were ready to run up.

In the little paper, the Regina Capitals, paid right off, the League had opened.

It is a week before the play-off.

The Caps beat the Moose Jaw.

Dick Irvin scores for the Caps.

The Caps beat the Eskimos.

When the game was over, the Eskimos were the losers by a score of 9-1.

The next week the two teams met again at Moose Jaw. The Caps won the game and the league championship and for the right to travel west to meet the中国人 in the final.

The Eskimos had that game 2 to 2.

and the Caps won it.

They took their tickets of hockey to the Caps.

The Eskimos lost one game. One day you are a hero and the next you are a bum.

The Caps won the game and the Eskimos lost another in the second on a pretty soft rush.

Prattie, Shereck and McKinney,

the three stars, came to Moose Jaw.

They were to play the Eskimos.

The Caps pulled up four goals in the opening period. The Eskimos were notched in the second frame and three more were thrown in the third.

Fowler was the best man for Edmonton.

If the Caps had been much greater, outside him, the Eskimos would have been much greater. Outside him, the Eskimos would have been much greater.

Edmonton has the best men.

FIREMAN AND TRUCK DRIVER ARE INJURED

Skidding onto 27th street from 19th avenue, a light truck owned by R. W. Ritchie, contractor, 10136 89th street, was demolished by a speeding fire truck at 5:05 p.m. Wednesday. Tom Martin, fireman, was thrown from the ground in the crash, suffering injuries to his back; Ritchie was pulled from underneath the wreckage unharmed, but suffering from shock and bruises.

No headway was being taken. Mrs. Ritchie drove her truck into the path of the fire wagon, driven by Tom Martin, who had swerved around trying to get clear. Young Ritchie, who was driving the truck, struck the light truck broadside while it was moving. The driver was thrown across the dashboard past the steering wheel and landed over a curb stone on the side of the street.

Broken to Pieces

Mr. Ritchie's truck was broken into a mass of twisted and heavy 15-inch engine of the fire truck was mangled beyond repair.

At the time of the crash the fire wagon was enroute from 27th street and 10th avenue.

League Council Warned Against Hasty Action

GENEVA, Dec. 9.—The council of the League of Nations has recommended a respite during the preparatory conference in Geneva before a final conference to suggest the best time for convening for a disarmament conference.

Members of the council made a decision to postpone the League's over-hasty conclusion which might supersede the conference.

Reduce Cotton Acreage To Bring Prices Higher

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 9.—The cotton acreage deputies have adopted the cotton acreage reduction plan proposed. Under the new law, Egypt's cotton acreage will be reduced to 1,000,000 acres normal for three years. Owing to the usual fluctuations in prices, the government decided the law would not meet the situation by limitation of acreage.

Now—Let the Wind Blow!

DOROTHY DIX

Why Second Marriages Are Desirable and Successful.
A Plea for Protection Against Letters of Introduction—Should a Baby Girl Be Named for Her Grandmother Regardless of the Ugliness of Family Name?

Dear Miss Dix—What are your views in regard to second marriages? Do you think it is possible to love the second husband or the second wife? BETTY.

Answer: I am an enthusiastic advocate of second marriages provided a man or woman marries in his or her own case, and uses a reasonable amount of discretion in his or her selection of a mate.

A second marriage is bound to prove disastrous unless the man or woman is as wise as he often does, a girl young enough to be his daughter, and puts her to be stepmother over him.

And it is still a worse tragedy when a man marries a woman who is twice his age, for her husband's insurance money just becomes his income, and it sounds so good to her family as it is to some man making love to her again.

But this extreme of matrimonial folly is one thing, and marrying into a family of which you are not a member is another. I think the men and women who are wise who try to rebuild their houses of happiness that have been shattered by the first marriage.

For instance, our country is living along marriage. Even when it isn't wholly successful it seems to unite men and women for the single life.

A man's wife may have him and get on her nerves. She may have him, she may have a hundred faults that jar him; but when she is gone and her voice is gone, when she is free, and goes and comes, and there is the circle for which he yearns while she is away, he finds that her freedom is his joy.

He finds that club hours are even longer than domestic ones. He finds time for cooking and house comforts, and the time of having to order every meal, and remember to send things to the presser and the laundry.

This is not to say it is a worse life. She may have bad a husband who is grumpy and unpleasant enough to live with. She may have had to bargain with him over every penny, but when he is gone and she has only herself to care for, she finds her freedom.

Now a woman who has run her own home is ever happy or satisfied in another's home. She is a woman who may pop into keeping house for a day or two. No woman likes life any more than if it has no service in it, and if she feels that nobody needs her.

Furthermore, the older we get, the more need we have of companionship in our own homes, for in age we must find our entertainment at our own firesides.

And so I think that the middle-aged men and women who have lost their old partners are well advised to secure to themselves new ones.

As to whether a man or woman never the second wife or husband as well as they did the first, that depends upon the individual case. Possibly somebody brings up a second marriage in the same romantic illustration with which she says she has done it, but the second marriage is far happier than the first, and the husband and wife are both the better for it. And second marriages that are bad are made good by the second mate, that the first was not.

A man's wife always loves marriage are happy and peaceful because she has the wide world to live in, and loves her husband and women from their first venture, and knows better how to treat her husband's wives.

And nearly always second marriages are happy and peaceful because the wife has the wide world to live in, and loves her husband and women from their first venture, and knows better how to treat her husband's wives.

Dear Miss Dix—What do you think about the prenuptial giving of letters of introduction? I live in a large city and am a man of some prominence, with a wife whom I have not married at all past.

I have a friend of mine whom I like very much, but they victimize me by giving letters of introduction to me to all of their friends and as a result I am embarrassed.

Is there any way to stop them? I am not particularly anxious to marry this girl, but I don't want to be embarrassed.

How can I rid myself of this? How can I rid myself of this? How can I rid myself of this?

Answer: Shake. My X. Y. Z. I belong to your lodge of sorrow. Indeed, I dare say my sufferings are greater than yours, because women are more easily victimized than men, and are more easily taken at pasture.

Is there any way to stop them? I am not particularly anxious to marry this girl, but I don't want to be embarrassed.

How can I rid myself of this? How can I rid myself of this? How can I rid myself of this?

Answer: Shake. My X. Y. Z. I belong to your lodge of sorrow. Indeed, I dare say my sufferings are greater than yours, because women are more easily victimized than men, and are more easily taken at pasture.

I have a friend of mine whom I like very much, but they victimize me by giving letters of introduction to me to all of their friends and as a result I am embarrassed.
